Procyon Pharmaceutical, Inc. Plans Expansion
Newly Launched Company Seeking Clinicians and Scientists

Pendleton, IN (February 1, 2008): Procyon Pharmaceutical, Inc., a recently launched animal health pharmaceuticals company, announces plans to expand their venture in the near future as they initiate operations. Several key positions will be filled to handle the growth of their pipeline.

“We would like to engage clinicians and scientists that may not be available to our big pharma counterparts,” says Dr. Garret Newbound, Chief Operating Officer and Vice President of Business Development. “By embracing virtual drug development, we can recruit talented individuals without necessarily requiring them to relocate. This may allow us unique access to biotech communities, retired academics or those in career transitions.”

Procyon Pharmaceuticals, Inc. launched operations effective January 2008. Specializing in animal health pharmaceuticals, Procyon promises innovative veterinary pharmaceutical research and development and a robust, therapeutically diverse pipeline of products intended to meet the needs of veterinarians, pet owners and producers. Privately held, Procyon’s leadership team includes Dr. Terrence Clark, President and Chief Executive Officer, and Dr. Garret Newbound, Chief Operating Officer and Vice President of Business Development. Both bring years of veterinary and pharmaceutical research experience to Procyon. Procyon’s corporate headquarters is located in historic downtown Pendleton, Indiana with offices and strategic partners located across North America, Western Europe, Australia and New Zealand.
